KINGDOM
VOICES
WEEKLY

STEWARDSHIP IS PART OF THE ASSIGNMENT

Ministry is often measured by what people can see—the message preached, the lives touched, the communities served, and the vision being pursued. But some of the most important work happens behind the scenes.

This week's cover conversation on church finances reminds us that stewardship is ministry too. How we manage resources, maintain accountability, and build trustworthy systems matters because every resource entrusted to a ministry has the potential to advance Kingdom purpose.

We also hear from Bishop K.J. Brown about something equally important: the strength found when generations work together. The methods may evolve, but the message remains. There is wisdom to preserve, new voices to empower, and work for every generation to do.

Those two ideas—stewardship and legacy—have more in common than we might realize. Both require us to take seriously what has been placed in our hands and prepare it to accomplish something beyond ourselves.

That is part of the heart behind Kingdom Voices Weekly: highlighting Kingdom voices, sharing practical wisdom, and helping ministries expand their reach without losing sight of their purpose.

Thank you for being part of this mission. Together, we amplify Kingdom voices and impact generations.

CHURCH FINANCES

Building a Stronger Financial Foundation for Ministry

Dr. Wright teaches that church finances are not optional—they are an area of ministry that requires the same excellence, integrity, and accountability that we expect in every other area.

At the beginning of his teaching, he references Malachi and the importance of tithes and offerings, then makes it clear that his focus is not a Bible study or a debate about the 10% tithe. His focus is financial management—protecting the resources God has entrusted to the Church so they can be used to advance the mission.

Strong financial management protects the Church, honors donors, and ensures resources are available for ministry today and for generations to come.

KEY FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT PRINCIPLES FOR CHURCHES

- USE OFFERING ENVELOPES AND DOCUMENT EVERY GIFT
Encourage members and guests to use offering envelopes or give in a way that creates a record. This protects both the donor and the Church and ensures every contribution is properly documented.
- MULTIPLE PEOPLE COUNT—AND THEY DON'T KNOW EACH OTHER
Offerings should be counted by at least three unrelated individuals. They do not know each other and preferably do not know or interact with the donors. This reduces the risk of fraud, theft, or embezzlement.
- DEPOSITS MUST MATCH RECORDED CONTRIBUTIONS
What is recorded during the count should match exactly what is deposited at the bank. Any discrepancies must be investigated immediately and documented.
- PROPERLY HANDLE DESIGNATED FUNDS
Designated gifts have to be handled according to the donor's intent. Track, report, and disburse them properly. Never commingle restricted funds with general operating funds.
- KEEP ACCURATE DONOR RECORDS
Maintain clear, up-to-date records of giving. This supports year-end statements, builds donor confidence, and ensures compliance.
- RECONCILE AND REVIEW REGULARLY
Reconcile bank accounts, review reports regularly, and investigate any irregularities. What gets monitored gets protected.
- FINANCIAL ACCOUNTABILITY BUILDS MINISTRY SUSTAINABILITY
Excellence in financial stewardship builds trust, strengthens your witness, and ensures the Church can continue its mission now and in the future.

BEST PRACTICES FOR THE CHURCH

- ✓ Establish written financial policies and procedures.
- ✓ Separate functions: authorize, record, count, and deposit.
- ✓ Require multiple approvals for expenses and payments.
- ✓ Provide monthly financial reports to leadership.
- ✓ Maintain insurance, documentation, and compliance with regulations.
- ✓ Promote transparency with the congregation.

A CHURCH THAT MANAGES FINANCES WELL CAN FOCUS ON ITS PRIMARY CALLING:

Making Disciples and Advancing the Kingdom.

BISHOP K.J. BROWN

Building Winning Lives

Old School Wisdom. New School Strength.

Generations Working Together to Advance the Kingdom

In this week's powerful message, Bishop K.J. Brown reminds us that God has a purpose for every generation.

Drawing from Psalm 92:12–14, he reveals that the righteous will still bear fruit in old age, stay fresh and green, and continue to declare that the Lord is upright.

— Psalm 92:12–14 (NLT)

*“They will still bear fruit in old age;
they will stay fresh and green,
proclaiming, ‘The LORD is upright;
he is my Rock, and there is no
wickedness in him.’”*

“ Bishop Brown emphasizes that older believers still have fruit to bear and younger believers bring strength, creativity, and fresh approaches. Together, we can reach farther.

THE WISDOM OF EXPERIENCE

Older generations carry the foundation—faith, discipline, and the lessons that stand the test of time.

- ✓ Keep sharing your story
- ✓ Stay active in the harvest
- ✓ Your life still makes a difference

THE STRENGTH OF YOUTH

Younger generations bring energy, innovation, and new ways to connect with the world around them.

- ✓ Use your gifts boldly
- ✓ Bring new ideas to the table
- ✓ Reach new people with new methods

STRONGER TOGETHER

The Church thrives when generations collaborate with the same mission and the same message.

- ✓ Different methods
- ✓ Same message
- ✓ One mission:
The Cross of Christ

*One Church. One Mission.
Many Generations. Greater Impact.

The methods can change.
The message never does.

Let's unite the wisdom of experience with the strength of the next generation—and reach the world together.
